

DETAILED ACTION

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 7-18 are allowed.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The present invention is directed to a method for selectively limiting access to network files. Independent claims 7, 8 and 9 each recite the uniquely distinct features of "performing a file-selective check for access possibilities to the file outside the local network domain via the gate device checking the file sent from the local network domain for presence of a security tag before the file is sent to the external network via the at least one communication channel, and blocking the sending of the file to the external network if the security tag is found to be present in the file". Independent claim 18 recites the uniquely distinct features of "perform a file-selective check for access possibilities to a file outside the local network by checking the file sent from the local network to the connection for presence of a security tag before the file is sent to the external network via the at least one communication channel, and send the file to the external network only if the security tag is found to be present in the file". The closest prior art, Grube et al (US 5,594,796), discloses a system for controlling access to copyrighted information using security tags. The prior art fails to anticipate or render the above underlined limitations obvious.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
